About the Book

Field Notes From a World on the Edge is a thrilling exploration of the remote corners of the globe, where the remnants of ancient civilizations and forgotten societies lie hidden. From the enigmatic ruins of the Maya to the abandoned cities of the Silk Road, author David Roberts uncovers the lost histories of these once-great cultures and the enigmatic remnants they left behind.

Roberts' journey takes him to some of the most remote and inhospitable places on Earth, from the jungles of Central America to the deserts of the Middle East. Along the way, he encounters local people, archaeologists, and historians who share their knowledge and insights into these forgotten worlds. Through his vivid writing and stunning photography, Roberts brings these lost civilizations to life, revealing their triumphs and failures, their innovations and their mysteries.

Reviews

"A fascinating and illuminating journey to the edge of civilization. Roberts' writing is both lyrical and informative, and his photographs are simply stunning." - The New York Times

"A must-read for anyone interested in ancient civilizations, lost histories, or the human spirit of exploration." - The Washington Post

"A beautifully written and thought-provoking book that will stay with you long after you finish it." - The Guardian
